

Spin Instructor

The University Neighbourhoods Association (UNA) is a unique not-for-profit organization that provides municipal-like services to approximately 15,000 residents who live in the University of British Columbia's Point Grey campus. At the UNA, we have built a workplace culture centred around creating strong and diverse communities.

We are looking for a Spin Instructor who is skilled in creating and delivering fun and exciting spin classes for the UNA community. If you are a certified Spin Instructor with a passion for teaching all levels how to cycle, please consider applying to this contracted position.

About the role:

- Offer 30 – 45 minute spin classes several times per week.
- Create fun and engaging workouts to keep patrons engaged and challenged.
- Curate fun playlists to pump up the room.
- Collaborate with patrons to help with goal setting.

About you:

- Experience in teaching spin classes to a group of 5-10 people.
- Registered fitness professional and/or certified Spin Instructor from a recognized organization.
- Ability to interact professionally with clients and assist with proper fitness protocol.
- Exercises sound judgment, tact and discretion at all times, and demonstrates exceptional customer service.
- Experience working in a not-for-profit organization or government setting is an asset.
- Ability to speak a second language such as Mandarin or Korean is an asset.
- Valid Standard First Aid and CPR certification is required.
- Valid Police Record Check with vulnerable sectors clearance is required.

The University Neighbourhoods Association offers a competitive wage and flexible scheduling for our fitness class and spin class instructors. Working at the UNA means a challenging and rewarding job where your goals are supported, your creativity is valued, and your colleagues are collaborative.

If you want to join our highly engaged and talented fitness team and make direct impacts in the community, please submit your resume and cover letter to:
